SPARFORM-M LU 135

A neat cutting and tapping oil based on high levels of inactive sulphur, chlorine and fatty additives. The high additive percentage makes this product suitable for all but the most arduous of metal working operations, its pale colour and low odour promote operator acceptability and clean working conditions. Can also be used as a pressing lubricant.

- Improves surface finish
- Reduces heat generation
- Pale colour
- Low odour
- Extends tool life
- Good flushing characteristics
- Suitable for ferrous and non-ferrous metals

Application

Can be used via a re-circulation system on automatic machines or by hand on smaller operations using a bottle dispenser.

When using as a pressing lubricant, apply liberally to all of surface. May benefit from extra application to the tool itself.

Under certain conditions may stain some sensitive copper based alloys.

Automated dispensing equipment is available together with refractometers for assuring concentration in use. Tramp oil skimmers and dip slides to order
